American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy Faculty Survey

2023 National Summary Report

About the AACP Curriculum Quality Surveys

The Graduating Student, Alumni, Preceptor, and Faculty surveys were first released in 2007. These surveys were based on the Accreditation Council of Pharmacy Education's (ACPE) 2007 Standards with the intention of gathering continuous improvement data for the colleges and schools of pharmacy.

In spring 2015, the AACP Institutional Research and Assessment Committee (IRAC), AACP staff, and ACPE staff revised these curriculum quality perception surveys to accommodate changes with the release of ACPE's 2016 Standards. In 2018, IRAC decided to move the demographic questions on three of the curriculum quality surveys (Graduating Student, Preceptor, and Alumni) to the end of the survey instrument. The Faculty demographic question section was already at the end of the survey instrument.

In 2021, IRAC decided to expand the demographic questions to include additional questions on race, ethnicity, English language proficiency, and first-generation student status. The 2022 results reflect the first administration of these revised surveys.

2023 Administration

The Faculty Survey was made available for online access in the AACP Survey System on March 27, 2023. As of August 2023, 95 colleges and schools of pharmacy administered the survey to their faculty. A total of four thousand and six $(4,006)$ faculty were invited to complete the survey. Three thousand and five $(3,005)$ faculty submitted the survey for a total response rate of 75 percent. Response rates per school ranged from 26 percent to 100 percent. For more information regarding this summary report or the administration of the survey, please contact the Office of Institutional Research and Effectiveness (data@aacp.org).

Differences in Perception: Administrators and Non-Administrators

Overall, both administrative and non-administrative faculty had similar opinions regarding administration and governance. However, questions 4 and 6 had the largest difference in levels of agreement between the answers of non-administrators and administrators. Questions 7 and 31 had the most similar amount of agreement.

*Values represent percentage of respondents who answered 'Strongly Agree' or 'Agree'.
Non-Administrators include respondents who answered No Administrative Rank. Administrators include respondents who answered: Dean, Associate responses, or Other responses that did not indicate clear administrative rank were excluded from these calculations. After these exclusions, there were 2,789 total faculty respondents used in the calculations.
*Question #22 also had a high degree of difference in levels of agreement between the two groups. However, the question also had a large proportion of respondents who selected "Unable to Comment". Thus, this question was excluded from the graph.

Demographics

2023 was the first year AACP asked the expanded demographic questions on race, ethnicity, English language proficiency, and first-generation student status. Faculty were able to skip any or all questions in the demographics section, and institutions do not get any of the demographic information in their raw data reports.

However, the summary data gives insight into the composition of pharmacy school faculty. Of faculty who chose to respond to question $54,27.9 \%$ identified as being a first-generation student (selecting the answer choice, 'Yes, neither of my parents completed a college/university degree'.) $34.0 \%$ of Graduating Student Survey respondents also identified as being first-generation college students. There was a bit more difference when it came to questions on race and ethnicity. $3.2 \%$ of faculty identified as Hispanic, Latino, or Spanish origin compared to $9.7 \%$ of graduating students. Some comparative data visualizations are provided below.

Do you identify as a first-generation student?
